

Conference: The evidence behind Natural Flood Management

Thur 14 November 2024

9:30 am - 4 pm

Free (ticket required)

J36 conference centre,
nr. Kendal, LA7 7FP

LUNE RIVERS TRUST

Natural Flood Management uses natural features and processes to slow and store flood water, aiming to reduce flood risk to towns and villages downstream. But how effective are these techniques and how can we design them to be most successful?

Academics and practitioners will review results of monitoring and modelling studies.

For full info, agenda & to book your ticket:

Scan & sign up

<https://bit.ly/3LdMXIt>

With thanks to:

This project is funded by Defra as part of the £200 million Flood and Coastal Innovation Programmes which is managed by the Environment Agency. The programmes will drive innovation in flood and coastal resilience and adaptation to a changing climate.

